Coverping shift coverage texts: consent

Coverping is a service of Deep ATL, LLC, Atlanta, Georgia. coverping.com/sms-consent

Coverping sends text messages about shift coverage on behalf of your workplace. By completing this form you agree to receive those texts from Coverping at the mobile number below. Your workplace subscribes to Coverping; it does not send the texts itself.

Workplace _____

Your name _____

Mobile number _____

What you'll receive: texts from Coverping when a shift at your workplace needs cover, when a coworker needs cover, and confirmations. Message frequency varies with coverage activity. Message and data rates may apply. Consent is not a condition of employment.

To stop: reply STOP to any Coverping text. For help: reply HELP or email hello@coverping.com. Privacy policy: coverping.com/privacy. Terms: coverping.com/terms.

☐ I agree to receive shift coverage text messages from Coverping at the mobile number above.

Signature _____

Date _____

What happens next. Your manager records your consent date on your workplace's Coverping roster. Coverping then sends you one text to confirm: "Coverping: You're enrolled in shift coverage texts for your workplace, [Workplace]. Reply YES to confirm. Msg & data rates may apply. Reply STOP to opt out." Reply YES to start receiving coverage requests. If you do not reply, nothing else is sent.

For the workplace: keep the signed form with the employee's file and enter the consent date on the Coverping roster. Questions: hello@coverping.com